

I am very happy with my ISP. I do not need another big conglomerate to take over my life. That is all the government wants so they can control everything the common man has